"My first year teaching with Northern Lights Public Schools has been an encouraging experience full of growth, relationship building, and learning more about myself as a new educator. I've been immersed in a supportive environment full of colleagues always willing to lend a helping hand."

"The guidance and mentorship in the division have made a very positive impact on my teaching and learning. The collaboration days helped me build connections with other educators, express my stresses and successes as a first-year teachers and learn from the Northern Lights community."
